MONMOUTHIANA

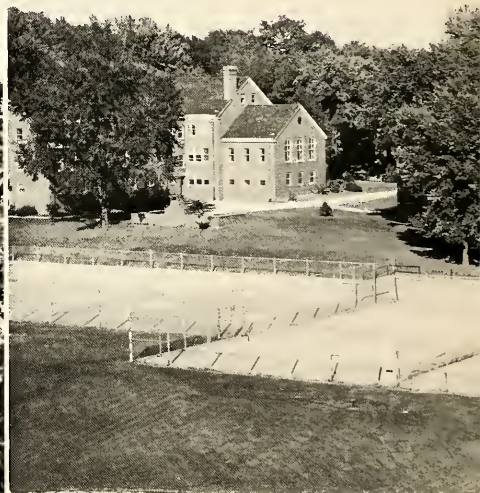

"Let me tell you about Monmouth . . . Dr. Thiessen's cannon and its mysterious decorations late at night; Fulton Hall, the boys' dorm — calm without, chaos within; Sara with her tail wagging, visiting classes; a true Scotchman — bag pipes and plaid tradition; the honor of Claude Rains' initiation into our own National Collegiate Players; informal conferences with Dr. Robert Mayo, Religious Emphasis Week speaker; walking in the rain during the monsoon season . . . yes, these are the things that remind me of Monmouth."

PRESIDENT, Dr. Robert W. Gibson

Guiding Monmouth through its 102nd year, Dr. Gibson shares with the presidents of other liberal arts colleges the task of preserving the ideals of a liberal arts education for the future, as well as maintaining its standards in these years of educational expansion.

The MC faculty-co-operative, friendly, a vital interest in students as people. Student applause rocked the Union as enthusiastic faculty members staged songs, pantomines, and comedy for the W. U. S. fund drive. The only question being, who had more fun, the entertained, or the entertainers —

Looking after so many girls is often quite a job for a House Director, who may have over sixty girls to whom she acts as "Mother away from home." The Dietitian's work, also, is not easy, for she has almost three-hundred people to "cook" for and likewise almost three-hundred tastes to satisfy. Both the House Directors and Dietitian should be commended for their patience!

PARENTS' WEEKEND

During the first few months of school, Monmouth students reserve a weekend especially for their parents, brothers, sisters, and friends from home. Time is spent touring the campus, meeting the faculty, and attending various scheduled activities. Included in the parents' memories of THEIR weekend is a chapel program, an exciting football game with band music and mums, and a Crimson Masque play.

HOMECOMING

Remember the exciting weekend of October 8? The pep rally and bonfire setting the mood for celebrating and "Homecoming" . . . the festive parade of gayly decorated floats, the winner, Sig Ep's "Victory-Line" . . . reign of Queen and attendants . . . the original frat house decorations — first place to the Teke's "This Old House." Came time . . . band music and highland fling . . . mums, shakers, cheers, pep . . . defeat. That night the dance . . . music by the Blue Baron . . . rustling skirts, scent of flowers, and finally . . . crowning of the Queen and the end of a perfect Homecoming.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council is one of the essential governing bodies of the college. Composed of a representative from each dormitory, class and social organization, it regulates student activities and serves as the voice of the students. Included among the duties of the Student Council are planning Homecoming and helping with the Christmas Union party. This year the council was host to members of the Midwest Student Council Conference. The council officers of surrounding schools attended this meeting and discussed their problems, methods and results concerning student activities.

STUDENT-FACULTY COMMITTEE

A medium for settling problems between faculty and students and for creating a good relationship between them is the Student-Faculty Committee. It is composed of seven members of the faculty and one member from each sorority, fraternity, and independent organization on campus. This year the committee sponsored informal get-togethers held about one Thursday of every month to help students and faculty know one another better.

YWCA AND YMCA CABINETS

The Y cabinets consist of the committee chairmen of the YW-YMCA. Each committee plays an important part in the Christian life of our college students. This year YWCA was responsible for Freshman Week, sponsoring a Korean war orphan, and performing various other social functions. The YW-YM combined edited the Red Book, and through their financial drive purchased a clock for the Union. The Christian Service groups have charge of chapel services and promoting Christian fellowship. YM aids the students with its book exchange and also presents the Easter Sunrise Service. Each member of the Y participates in the interest group of his choice, and through this feels an active part of campus life.

PAN HELLENIC COUNCIL

Sitting: Hofbauer, Gadske, Utter, Mears.
Standing: Buhler, Bayliss, Ramsdale.
Not present: P. Henry.

The Pan Hellenic Council is composed of two members from each of the four sororities on campus. They help to link these groups together for the unity and harmony needed at Monmouth. The main project of the council this year was the decorating and furnishing of Marshall Hall recreation room. Pan Hel meets weekly to decide issues such as rules for Marshall Hall, social problems, and regulations for rushing.

INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Sitting: Dittmar, Cook, Dean Phillips (advisor), Allen.
Standing: Sanders, Cummings, Salaway, Hodge, McKellar.

This council among fraternities corresponds to the Pan Hellenic Council among sororities. Two men from each fraternity meet with the advisor, Dean Phillips, to discuss and solve problems concerning their groups. Unified rushing, suitable regulations, and mutual understanding and consideration are objectives of the council. Combined with Pan Hel, the Interfraternity council helps plan an annual "sing" where each social group presents songs for general approval.

Any violator of dormitory rules may be seen on a Monday night appealing her case to the "supreme court" of women students — the Women's Governing Board. The board enforces regulations by issuing campuses to offenders. In addition, it revises rules when necessary, makes suggestions to administration, represents the desires of the women students. The board consists of ten members, two from each social group, five chosen by the preceding year's board, and five elected by the women students.

PUBLICATIONS BOARD

All well functioning teams need a coach and journalistic staffs know this to be true. The Oracle and Ravelings staffs are guided by the Publications Board which consists of a faculty representative and the heads of both publications. This board makes suggestions for the improvement of the newspaper and year book and fills any vacancies that might occur on either staff. Dave Fleming is the faculty sponsor and helps in overcoming the many problems that arise with publications.

It's true, Monmouth College men do have a lot on their minds. Take for instance, the Alpine bonnet at the left and then that Civil War relic, the Confederate cap. Since it gets "mighty cold" during the Monmouth winter, some of MC's men wouldn't be without their brightly colored stocking caps.

WHAT MC MEN HAVE ON THEIR MINDS

Another type of head piece is the yellow ATO hat which can be seen from quite a distance. Again, just to show that our men know how to master the elements, they may sport a fur-lined parka. Fads come and go at Monmouth. One popular version is the "pork pie". Not to be outdone by modern youth, Dr. Ketterer made an appearance one day in a delightful bundle of bandages. Of course, MC men have a lot of other things on their minds, such as —

SUPPER CLUB COUNCIL

Students and faculty have the opportunity to enjoy food and fellowship every Sunday evening in the Union with the Supper Club. It begins at 5:30 with a wholesome meal followed by a program consisting of group singing, scripture reading, prominent speakers, and movies. The group is directed by the Supper Club Council, with a representative from each social organization, and the Reverends James G. Manor and Arthur Hall.

ICTHUS CLUB

Ichthus Club is an organization for those interested in a life of active or lay Christian service. This group meets monthly and has a variety of programs including speeches by Monmouth faculty and visiting ministers. Under the presidency of Margaret Ralston, Ichthus has had a successful and worth while year.

MESSIAH

The Monmouth Community Choir gave its annual presentation of Handel's "Messiah" on December 5th. Under the direction of James P. Dunn the choir of 150 members worked hard for weeks and proved to be a success in their performance of Handel's masterpiece. With the accompaniment of the orchestra conducted by H. A. Loya the Messiah was an inspiration for both the audience and participants.

GOSPEL TEAMS

The Gospel Teams are Christian service groups who conduct Sunday morning services or young peoples' meetings upon request from any church in the Monmouth area. There are eight teams; each having a leader, three speakers, and a soloist. They gain much experience conducting entire services and are greatly appreciated by the churches.

Front Row: C. Jacobs, M. Smith, Glenn, Reifinger, Muranyi. Second Row: McMackin, S. Smith, G. Speer.

SPANISH CLUB

Holas amigos! This might be the beginning of a conversation which takes place at a Spanish Club meeting. The programs are varied and usually include a movie and guest speaker. Anything concerning the Spanish-speaking countries and their inhabitants is of interest to members of the Spanish Club. They hope to gain a better understanding of our neighbors and to promote interest in their customs, manners, and ways of life.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

Members of Sociology Club are involved in understanding our own society. Through discussions and special reports they seek realization of the effects of sociology on citizenship and social statesmanship. The club is sincerely interested in people and their difficulties. It strives to cultivate a fellowship among students on other midwest campuses as well as our own.

CLIO CLUB

In 1492, Columbus sailed the ocean blue — Just ask a Clio member anything about history and he can answer immediately. These up-to-date historians gain further knowledge through movies, discussions, and research during their meetings. Pursuing interests in events of the past is the main objective of this club.

FORENSIC LEAGUE

Any time you see a Monmouth College student in an inter-collegiate speech event you may be certain he is a member of Forensic League. This organization gives its members speaking experience in many situations. Through F. L., the amateur speaker is able to improve his ability in debate and in public speaking.

"Come on Monmouth, make it snappy . . . We're all with you and so happy . . ." is the refrain of these happy gals. From the first football game throughout the last basketball game, you can see them sporting their red sweaters and shakers. Leading the Pep Club in cheers is the energetic squad of cheerleaders. Rhythm, coordination, and real Monmouth enthusiasm are the trademarks of this peppy five-some.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

Lower Slobovia and Timbuckto are "at it" again. If anything new is happening in world affairs, these people will know about it. International Relations Club participants strive to gain knowledge and understanding of the problems of other countries through movies, discussions, and reports. This year various members attended conferences throughout the state and several were able to visit the United Nations in New York City.

"Yea, team, let's fight!" That's just what they did too — fought for victories. At each new game the basketball team was ready with skill and stamina to play its best and make the highest possible score. The season ended with ten victories and ten defeats and a 7—5 victory in the conference finals. Of course, cheering students and band marches added to the excitement of the well played games. Next year M.C. will be minus three of its experienced and high-scoring seniors — Effland, McGehee, and Kovacs. Nevertheless, the remaining team members are skilled in their shots and team work, and Monmouth is looking forward to a successful season.

The he-man organization of Monmouth is the "M" Club. It is comprised of men who have won letters for athletic prowess on the gridiron, diamond, track, court, or in the pool. The club sponsors such activities as selling refreshments at games, publishing athletic programs, and choosing an outstanding freshman to receive the "M" Club Athletic Scholarship. This club promotes a greater interest in sports of all seasons and is the goal for every aspiring athlete.

ORCHESIS CLUB

Creative dancing is the main function of this organization. Orchesis members interpret their own dances by combining rhythmic movements, music, and practice. Their dances are presented in an annual show and also in the May Fete Celebration. "Make Mine Manhattan" was this year's presentation. Each member took part in at least one of the numbers which depicted scenes of a visit to the great island. The success of Orchesis Club is due to each member's co-operation, willingness to work, and love of dancing.

FINAL EXAMS

For ten-minute quizzes, a hasty glance at notes between classes . . . for hourly tests, a quick survey of the chapter during chapel hour . . . but FINALS . . . require all night sessions. The intelligencia can be found devouring knowledge in the library, in the dorms, in the smokers, and even in their beds.

AFTER THE SHOW--THE UNION!

The center of campus activity is the Student Union. On weekend nights it is the thing to go down to the union for dancing and bridge. The new T.V. set this year draws a large crowd and Saturday night "Gobel" time is no exception. A quick break between classes finds many getting coffee. As you go down, you will well agree that our Union is a center of fun and place for relaxation.

Skilled in both distance races and sprints, the team combined co-ordination and ability to do its best work. Individual skill plus team unity are the goals set by the swimmers for their success.

DOLPHINS AND POLLYWOGS

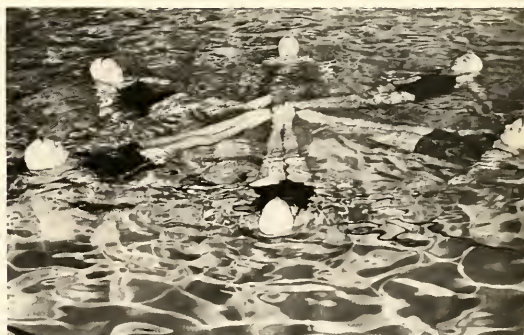

"Splash, two . . three . . four" usually means that members of Pollywogs and Dolphins are earnestly practicing their swimming techniques. Whether they are swimming for intramurals, the water pageant, or their own enjoyment, these daughters of Neptune strive for perfection of stroke and style.

Dolphins are required to have their Senior Life-saving badges and to work with W.A.A. in its various activities. Pollywogs are the junior Dolphins who try out for the water show and when accepted, become members of Dolphins.

CHOIR

Two by two they march down the aisle, adding joyous notes to each vesper service. These forty-eight heralds of harmony under the direction of James Dunn make regular appearances at Baccalaureate and other services. In the spring, thirty-one members are chosen for a rewarding tour of a group of major cities.

CHORALE

Most of us think of chorale as the sixteen songsters who are present at the three chapel services every week. This is truly their primary function. Under the direction of Mr. Dunn, this group chosen from the choir also appears at various churches and social organizations.

W.A.A. tournaments among the social groups and playdays with other colleges encourage individual as well as team participation. Badminton and bowling enthusiasts attended a playday at Knox this spring. Those especially interested in tennis and golf were guests of the MacMurray W.A.A. Under the guidance of Miss Widule, W.A.A. carries on a varied program of activities which includes an annual hike and early morning breakfast for the freshmen girls.

Tomahawk is the national Sophomore honorary society which gives recognition to Independent upperclass women for outstanding work in activities and organizations on the M.C. campus. It was organized a year ago to promote scholastic, social, and cultural activities among the Independent freshmen.

Summer

Summer brought

Commencement and → → →

The M.C. student's day begins when he hurriedly jumps out of bed to the buzzing of the alarm. So dreary he can barely make it, he ventures off to a quick breakfast before 8:30 chapel. Then, madly dashing to beat the bell, he's all set for another forty winks of class.

A free hour is due after class, so he makes plans for a fun-packed hour in the Union before his next class.

FOOTSTEPS AROUND

THE CLOCK

Evenings of the M.C. student may be spent in many ways — a dance, the movies, a game, an open-house, or maybe even studying. No matter what the occasion, most students find time to drop into the Union for a coke or snack, to dance a bit, or watch T.V. Then, it's "sign in" time, walking a date to her dorm, and . . .

TAU PI

On Monmouth's campus is a society composed of senior women, outstanding in personality, scholarship, and activities. This organization is Tau Pi, which corresponds to the national honorary society, Mortar Board. Girls are chosen for membership at the end of their junior year by the active senior members.

Tau Pi awards each year a cup to whom they consider the most outstanding girl in the freshman class. Another activity of Tau Pi is to sponsor a scholarship for an outstanding senior girl. Ada Rintoul was the recipient of this scholarship last year.

This year Pat Brown is president of Tau Pi, which is a group of nine members.

It is quite an honor to become a member of Sigma Omicron Mu, Monmouth's "Phi Beta Kappa". Sigma Omicron Mu is a local honorary scholastic fraternity founded on the campus in 1926, but it is the hope of the college to soon gain membership in its national equivalent, Phi Beta Kappa.

Scholarship Day which we have every semester is sponsored by Sigma Omicron Mu. On that occasion new members are tapped.

To be "tapped" into this honorary fraternity one must have a grade average of at least 3.5 for four semesters, two of which must have been consecutive. The requirement makes membership into Sigma Omicron Mu rather difficult, but this difficulty only adds to the distinction in becoming a part of the organization.

PI GAMMA PI

These two Greek organizations are freshmen honorary scholastic fraternities. Pi Gamma Pi encourages high scholarship among the freshmen girls and Phi Eta Mu, among the freshmen men. To become a member of one of these groups, a freshman must have a 3.5 grade average for his first semester or for the first and second semesters combined.

"It's good, but . . ." is one of the usual comments heard at the monthly meetings of Sigma Tau Delta. This national English fraternity fosters all forms of creative writing and interests in literature. Original papers are read at the meetings and the members offer constructive criticisms as a means of improvement. This year the club was host to the Iowa Wesleyan chapter and organized and sponsored the annual freshman writing contest. The winners of this contest were invited to a banquet held in the spring. One of the Sigma Tau's members, Dean Masterson, wrote a musical, "For the Fun of It," which was presented by the Pi Alpha Nu of Monmouth College.

PI KAPPA DELTA

Here are the hidden faces who make chapel announcements. Two years of speech work and representation of Monmouth in inter-collegiate forensic contests qualifies young orators for this national speech fraternity. The purpose of this organization is to encourage forensic activity in its members.

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY

The American Chemical Society consists of the chemistry majors on campus. In monthly meetings, outside speakers inform the members of the fields open to chemistry majors. Each year a tour to some of the outstanding research and chemical laboratories is planned for further enlightenment. This organization helps its members plan their careers in the world of test tubes and sulfur fumes.

TRI BETA

Here is a national honorary for "bug lovers." Membership in Tri Beta's Gamma Phi chapter requires a scholastic average of 2.6 plus at least ten hours of toil in the biology department. Good scholarship and interest in the field of biology are stimulated by this organization.

TRACK

"JELLY" ROBINSON

The varsity track team climaxed a successful 1954 season by winning the Mid-West championship. This victory was particularly sweet for Coach "Jelly" Robinson, whose scots had finished second six times in the past but had never taken first. Monmouth won most of its meets during the regular campaign, but had lost a hard fought contest to Knox at Galesburg. This "Cinderella" team was only rated to place second or third. However, the Scots went to Ripon with determination where they caught up with the leaders halfway through the meet and then slowly pulled away to win. Much of M.C.'s success goes to Coach Robinson. Individually, Dick Vogt led with two firsts in high and low hurdles and a third in the 100 yard dash. Others helping to bring victory were Carlson, Droste, Rasmussen, Asplund, and Lafferty. This was not a victory wrought only by individuals, but rather a team triumph.

ORACLE

Voice of the Clan

In a small room on the third floor of Wallace a "Voice" is planning its next speech. The "Voice of the Clan," better known as the Oracle, tells everything of importance that happens on Monmouth campus to its newsworthy students. Amid the clatter of typewriters, the odor of rubber cement and the rustle of papers the Oracle is formed. Wednesday night finds Edith and her staff busy at work making up the paper for the Saturday publication. After the reporters submit their news and feature items, the articles have to be edited or rewritten and sometimes typed. The result of all this turmoil and worry about deadlines is a marvelous job of six pages of the previous and the future week's happenings.

*Top — Big decision!
Bottom — Who's who?*

"A big dead-line is Saturday. We'll really have to rush!" This is a familiar saying, often heard and said by members of the Ravelings staff. Work on the yearbook is a combination of fun and work. It's getting to know the staff better every Saturday morning when we work from the early, early hour of 8:30 in the morning on through the day until enough pages are finished. There are those quick breakfast breaks with coffee and doughnuts and then back to copy and laying out pages.

All this work is for the satisfaction of giving you, the college a yearbook to be proud of. We hope we've succeeded.

Coke break.

MAY FETE

The May Fete is one of Monmouth's numerous traditions. For the occasion, the college band furnishes an appropriate program and plays the processional march. Promenading down the sloped walk behind Wallace, the May Queen and her court present a magnificent sight. 1954 Queen, Libby Dugan and Chancellor, Vic Atchison, were preceded to the throne by their court, crown bearer, and flower girls. The court was composed of attendants; Bonnie Bondurant, Jim Asplund, Betty Beabout, Bud Maurice, Barbara Cook, Frew Brown, Elinor Heron, Laird Willson.

Dr. Gibson crowned the royal couple with all the dignity of an official coronation. Following this ceremony, Orchestris club presented a series of dances in honor of the Queen. The theme "Fantasy in Blue" was interpreted through songs and costumes of the color blue. There were solos, duets, and group dances planned to such tunes as "Blue Tango," "Blue Violins," and "Blacksmith Blues." As is customary, a colorful and intricate May pole dance climaxed the festival.
